

MRS. RITCHIE'S 15-CENT CHECK.

A Barber Shop Run on a System Like that of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Mrs. Ida Ritchie of 133 South Ninth street, Williamsburgh, went into Joseph Hyman's hairdressing establishment at 339 Bedford avenue. Thursday afternoon, to have her hair curled and dressed. Her hair gave her a fifteen-cent check and directed her to a rear room, where the female hairdressers were. Mrs. Ritchie told the attendant to wash the bangs first, which the attendant refused to do when she saw the fifteen-cent check. The attendant said that the cost for washing bangs was fifty cents. Mrs. Ritchie refused to pay that amount, and demanded back her money from Hyman. It is alleged that he forcibly ejected her from the store without giving her the fifteen cents. Mrs. Ritchie went to the Lee Avenue Police Court yesterday and obtained a warrant against Hyman for assault. He was notified last night to be in court to-day.

Hyman was summoned to appear before a Sun referee yesterday. The game in here and said, "I vant my bang curled and washed. Tell her we don't wash bangs, and she'll change her mind." Mrs. Ritchie then asked, "I b'fay my head always washed and curled for fifteen cents. I gave her fifteen cents, and she won't give me back the money. I vant heesness, and if you vant a shampoo it will cost you forty cents. She's got a fifteen-cent check, and I want it back." Do you think because I got a shampoo on you don't know who I am? I vant the back room and she'll have to wash my hair and give me back her hair and my money, because he's a system here, like the Pennsylvania Railroad. If you buy a ticket for a train, you can't get off until you go to get back your money. It's here that you think that way. You couldn't give back the money. I vant heesness, and if you don't know what you're talking about, but her money, nevaro. If it've didn't do heesness, that way there could always be trouble. Women are always lighting any day."

JACKSON FINED $100.

But the End Is Not Yet, and He Expects to Get Even with One of the "Jackasses."

Louis Jackson, the deposed Vice-President of the congregation Beth-Jacob in Keap street, Williamsburgh, who was arrested for criminal libel about three weeks ago on complaint of Louis Schwartz, the President of the congregation, was fined $100 by Justice Goeting in the Lee Avenue Police Court yesterday. Jackson's arrest grew out of the expulsion from the synagogue of Rabbi Hyman Rosenberg for eating ham at a saloon opening in North Second street, Williamsburgh, two months ago. Jackson protested vigorously against the action of the synagogue trustees as outrageous. He called the members of the congregation who voted against the rabbi "a lot of jackasses and shabashky." For uttering these words, charges were preferred against him by President Schwartz, who attacked the conduct of President Schwartz, accusing him of having tampered with the rabbi's boxes in the synagogue. Schwartz caused Jackson to be arrested, and Jackson was tried last Monday. Justice Goeting reserved his decision until yesterday. When the decision was announced Jackson went to the police station and took a roll of $50 from his pocket. As he counted out twenty of them, he turned to Hyman Rosenberg and said, "I'm going to get even with you. The Polish interloper in that court, and said: "Every one of those $50 bills is a nail in your coffin."

Jackson and Schwartz are members of a lodge that meets at 69 Essex street, this city. One of the rules of the lodge is that any trouble between members of the lodge must be brought to the attention of the members of the lodge before proceedings are taken in court. Schwartz, who said, failed to notify the lodge, and Jackson, who said yesterday, would take steps to have him ousted.

Andrus, giving preferences to the Clinton Bank, $30,000; Hamilton J. Andrus of Yonkers, $5,000; George Ketcham of Yonkers, $1,500, all for money lent on notes. Mr. Williams is a son-in-law of the late John Castor, President of the Irving National Bank, who died $20,000,000.

For most assignments, including $3,000, have been obtained against Berger & Hartman, merchants of Cheyenne, by visitors in this city, who have caused the firm to file for goods. Berger & Hartman shipped from one city to another have been found in Brooklyn.

Taylor Lockwood, tailor, 215 Fifth avenue, has a chancery and fire department in favor of William Keating, Clarke on assigned claims of William Clark for money lent and merchandise, $1,000, and $1,000, respectively. The judgments on Jan. 24, in New Orleans, and the signature is scarcely legible. In November, he attempted to compromise with his creditors for $50 cents each.

Two judgments for $1,543 were entered yesterday against the Tiff Company, confectionery, 490 Broadway, 23rd Street, and 359 Ninth avenue, with interest, $1,000. Execution was issued to the Sheriff.

OSTERMER OBJECT.

The Conversion of O'Gorman Island Into a Summer Resort May Injure Their Crops.

Opposition has arisen among the baymen and oystermen in the neighborhood of Port Washington, L. I., against the conversion of O'Gorman Island into a summer resort by the Stain, Stanhope and Eastman Company. The island is owned by Judge O'Gorman of New York, and is located in the Sound off Port Washington.

It was based some time ago by the Stain people, who have rechristened it Sunny Side Grove. It was when they set about building a dock that the oystermen arose to arms. They alleged that the dock and pier would have a tendency to injure the oysters beds in that vicinity, and yesterday James Henry Willets started out with a petition to signers to try to stop the project. James Henry Willets, who is to manage the grove for the Stains, got up a petition in favor of the grove, and the oystermen said it was a mere hollow canvass for signatures. The petitions are to be presented at a meeting of the Town Board to-day. Petitions are made by some of the oystermen, and the rest shall be created at the island, notwithstanding what action the Town Board may take.
